

BULLDOG CLUB OF AMERICA

Position Statement

ANIMAL WELFARE ACT ENFORCEMENT

The federal Animal Welfare Act enforced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is intended to regulate wholesale breeders, dealers and caretakers of dogs. The USDA has regularly strengthened the standards for humane care and treatment of dogs and other animals by persons regulated under the Act.

The Bulldog Club of America supports increasing the funding for USDA enforcement personnel dealing with wholesale dog operations and strong enforcement of the requirements of the Animal Welfare Act.
