

BULLDOGS

BASFORD PLAYBOY, owned by C. L. Haynes, Birmingham, Ala., finished his championship in a blaze of glory, by going Best in Show All Breeds at the Huntington, W. Va. event under Vinton P. Breese. This excellent son of Ch. Basford Brigadier and Gypsy Pendola, both of which are owned by George A. Gibson of Birmingham, came out as a six months old puppy in Birmingham, when he won the Novice class. His next wins were as follows: Winners at Beaumont, Texas; Best of Breed and first in the group at Clarksdale, Miss.; Best of Breed and second in the group at Winterhaven, Fla.; Best of Winners at Savannah; Best of Breed at Greensboro and Best of Breed and third in the group at Asheville. Mr. Haynes plans to offer Playboy at public stud in the near future and we hope to have a picture of him for our next issue.

The Charleston, W. Va., show on October 24th, finished two champions. Basford Boofuls owned by the Sunbury Kennels, Gahanna, Ohio, was Winners Bitch and first in the group, and this win gave her the final points for the title. The Winners Dog, Lumid's Tiger also acquired his last remaining points. Basford Boofuls is an imported bitch that came over in March of this year from the Basford Kennels in England. Her first American show was at Lorain, Ohio, where she placed second in the group. Following this, she was Best of Breed at Chagrin Valley; Winners at Lake Forest; Second and third in the groups respectively at Jackson, Mich. and Roanoke, Va.; Winners at Greensboro and Durham and first in the group at Charleston, W. Va., where she acquired the final points for her title. Boofuls will not be shown during the winter months. It will be remembered that English Ch. Basford Model was also imported by Sunbury Kennels at the time Boofuls came over. He unfortunately died in the express office at New York. As a replacement for Model, Basford Dandy was purchased. Dandy was by Ch. Basford Son O'Revival ex Fraxinus Faith. He too, proved to be ill-fated and died on the train enroute from New York to Columbus on October 7th. Mr. Dennis writes that in spite of all the bad luck, the Bulldog spirit predominates and they are hoping for a better break next time.

Sunbury report a litter of four puppies out of their Mag Magdaline of Sunbury, a young bitch by Colonel Nipper The Stormer out of Dugals Betty. The sire of the litter is Drury Lane George, a Ch. Westbrae Stormer son. Incidentally, George will be started on the show circuit this coming spring.

Lumid's Tiger, which finished for the title at Charleston, W. Va. is owned by Mrs. Luella M. Cook of Pittsburgh, Pa.

He is pictured in this issue. He was whelped in 1935 and his very clear brindle markings, gave him his name of "Tiger." During his career he has been Best of Breed eight times and has placed in the group on five occasions. Red-headed Phil Marsh of Ft. Wayne, Ind. has always handled him. He came out in 1936 and was only shown a time or two each year until 1939, when he started his current career by going Winners Dog in an entry of 42 at the Pittsburgh show.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Davidson of Sioux City, Iowa, report a litter of eight out of a Tri-Int. Ch. Basford Ideal daughter and sired by Dartmouth's Dean of Women; also another litter sired of Honey. This direct line-breeding was suggested by George Hewson and Mr. Day writes the results are more than gratifying.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Peppe of Glen Rock, N. Y. sent us a picture of a more than promising four-months-old puppy, Crovanspring of Locrest. This rich red fawn youngster is sired by Crovanspring Legacy out of Lady Kensington. He started his career at the Sparrow Bush Match where he won the 3-6 months class. Following this he was Best Puppy in the Non-Sporting group at the Union County match. The Peppes are so delighted with him that they have just shipped their Locrest Short Stuff for mating to the Crovanspring Legacy.

Yorkist Leonora, latest champion of Mr. and Mrs. Millard C. White, Oakland, Calif., is pictured in this issue. She finished at Malibu Beach and at the present time she is heavy in whelp to Ch. Cragman Buckshot. This will be Leonora's second litter by him and she is only 2½ years old. The Whites are also expecting a litter by Buckshot out of Princess Patsy Cintrason. This will be Pat's first litter. She was bred for the first time some three years ago but the puppies never came and she has never had a litter. This time she is very heavy in whelp and there is no doubt but what there will be puppies.

We understand that Mr. Lawlor's splendid Bulldog models are now available in utility pieces, such as book ends, desk pieces equipped with two fountain pens, ash trays with models, etc. The Bulldog model itself, is now available in both male and female sex. We have been told this is the first model of a bitch made to date. Incidentally, the book ends are made up of one each of the male and female models. The desk pieces are mounted on an onyx base. Full information on these can be secured from Mr. Lawlor.

Mrs. Harry Middleton, Richmond Heights, Mo. has recently purchased British Guardsman from the British Bulldog Kennels in Detroit. Guardsman was the only male resulting from the union of Lady Lorna and Larchmont White Duke, a mating which produced three champion bitches—Ch. Guinivere, Ch. Lady Lorna II and Ch. Lily Maid. Mrs. Middleton plans to show British Guardsman. She had hoped to breed two bitches to him, but unfortunately they were ready before Guardsman arrived at his new home. One of them a granddaughter of Tri. Int. Ch. Basford Ideal and Tri. Int. Ch. Parkholme Primula, was bred to Ch. Cambridge Gladiator and the puppies are due about Thanksgiving time.

Rev. and Mrs. Harry Gordon of Green River, Wyo., are newcomers to the fancy. Late in August they saw a seven-by Ideal out of Wally's Lady Pat. The Davidsons plan to let Pat rest a year and will not have any other litters until their Belinda The Beautiful Model, one of Pat's daughters by Ideal is ready to breed. She is now six months old and the Davidsons write she's a real beauty. Puppies sired by Ideal have gone to the following new owners: D. W. Price, New York City; Mrs. P. H. Mann, Hardinsburg, Ind.; A. Schomens, Brainerd, Minn., and C. W. Gerdes, Chicago.

About a year and a half ago, the Davidsons bred a Crovanspring daughter to Tri. Int. Ch. Drinkmoor Homebrew and one of the puppies was sold to Mr. Conn, Winnipeg, Canada. A few months ago she was returned to the Davidsons for breeding to Basford Ideal. News just comes that the Conns have a litter of three delivered via Caesarian and today the puppies are doing splendidly.

First Specialty Show, Bulldog Association of Southern California, October 15th

By William Lawlor, Judge

FROM "The Birthplace of American Liberty" to "The Home of Sunkist Hospitality" is a little train ride of some 3,285 miles, but from start to finish, my trip was a real pleasure and I am happy indeed to give you an account of at least the highlights of some of my California experiences.

My train pulled out of Boston on the afternoon of October 10th., headed for Chicago, where I boarded the Grand Canyon Limited, which was my home for the next two days. I arrived in Los Angeles on the night of Friday the 13th., and after a good nights rest, was up with the sun to get my first view of the

He has a good sour expression; small, well placed ears. All in all, a real head piece with a body to match.

Moir is an all-of-a-heap rich, red, brindle bitch and in spite of her being in whelp, I could see she has great balance. I would judge that when she is in exhibition condition, she would be a hard one to beat, though of the two dogs, I personally prefer Baker.

Sunday, October 15th., the day of my judging assignment, dawned beautifully bright and cheerful. I had had a grand night's sleep and was bubbling over with enthusiasm to enter the ring and start judging what they told me was beautiful city of Los Angeles. I was soon on my way to Santa Ana, the home of Dr. Hugh Wilson O'Neill, to see his two new importations—English Ch. Berwyn British Baker and English Ch. Ryefield Moira. I had learned before leaving Boston that neither of these two well-known English champions would be entered, as Baker was not in show condition and Moira was heavy in whelp to Baker. When I arrived in Santa Ana, I saw a genial figure walking down the street, leading four husky Bulldogs and it took no introduction for me to know that this was Dr. O'Neill. I'll have to admit I would never have known English Ch. British Baker from his picture. He is a decidedly better dog and I was instantly struck with his balance, his head, which is shaped like a huge paving block, and is very nicely broken up with an underjaw of correct formation—broad and well turned up.

the west's record entry of Bulldogs. It was really a thrilling experience. I had never seen a single dog which I judged until it was brought into the ring, nor had I ever met any of the owners or handlers until they came before me.

The day was quite warm with the temperature standing at 96, and I was simply amazed when I noticed that not a single Bulldog had its mouth open nor seemed to feel the heat. I later found that the air in Southern California is very light and dry, entirely free from humidity, and as a consequence, the dogs do not suffer from the heat as they do in other sections of the country. I venture to state that Southern California is one of the greatest climates that can be found on the face of the earth for Bulldogs.

There were 101 dogs entered, with four absentees, leaving 97 benched. Now that I have had the privilege of examining this splendid entry, I am in a position to agree with Charles G. Hopton, Esq., who stated in the October issue of Dog News "Bulldogs are booming on the Pacific Coast," and with his suggestion that a combined East and West Bulldog Specialty show, would bring some very real competition. I believe I would be tempted to place my money on the West Coast to give the East Coast a good drubbing in another year.

But now to my judging: Entries in the classes were as follows: Puppy Dogs (6 and under 9) Six; Puppy Dogs (9 months under 12) Three; Novice Dogs—Nine; American-bred Dogs (45 lbs. and under) Two; Limit Dogs (under 45 lbs.) Three; Open Dogs (under 45 lbs.) One; American-bred Dogs (45 lbs. and over) Seven; Open Dogs (45 lbs. and over) Ten.

Puppy Bitches (6 months-under 9) Six. Puppy Bitches (9 months-under 12) Six; Novice Bitches, Nine; American bred Bitches (under 40 lbs.) Five; Limit Bitches (under 40 lbs.) Six; Open Bitches (under 40 lbs.) One. American-bred Bitches (40 lbs. and over) Five; Limit Bitches (40 lbs. and over) Ten. Open Bitches (40 lbs. and over) Two. The classes for Specials only brought out nine Champions. This was a real treat to me as I had never seen any of them in the flesh before.

My Winners Dog was Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Ray's R. Lucky Ray, a son of Con-Roy Cimarron ex R. Princess Ray. He is an attractive light brindle heavy-weight of good balance with a rare property seldom seen in our present-day Bulldogs—a very pronounced turn of fore-arm, and he is very heavy boned with good expression. As I looked him over, I could not help thinking that he was a typical descendant of Irish Alaunt and three days later, when I saw a copy of his pedigree, my thoughts were verified, when I discovered he had two crosses of Irish Alaunt. The Reserve Winners Dog was Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Paul's Calizona Warrior, by Ch. Calizona Toreador ex Duchess Jerry Lou, a big active white and brindle marked dog. He lost to the Winners Dog as he was not quite as cloddy nor as generally well balanced. However, this dog had the best underjaw of any dog or bitch in the show. The turnup and width of his underjaw is a positive model.

The Winners Bitch class confirmed what I have said regarding youngsters. Here I found in the Puppy Bitches from 9 to 12 months class both my Winners and Reserve. The Winner was Miss Mabel E. Fox's Seven Gables Cochisa, a daughter of Ch. Basford's Revival's Replica ex Seven Gables Sailor Girl. This young bitch has quality and good balance, a nice head, with a body to match. I can see no reason why she will not make a very useful champion. Mr. Jack Reed's Miss Java of Westgate was Reserve Winners Bitch. She is quite typey and should go far when fully leveloped. She is by Rodoco Mentor out of Diana of Westgate.

My hunt to find Best of Breed was a surprise and a thrill. As the dogs came into the ring, my attention was instantly arrested by a splendid rich red brindle which came prancing in and it was this massive, well-balanced red brindle fellow that I finally chose to receive the Best of Breed award. I later learned that it was Frank G. Hogan's English and American Ch. Basford Revival's Replica (by Ch. Basford Revival ex Patch O'Gay. Though I had seen pictures of this dog, I'll have to admit that all of them had been so poor I did not even suspect that it was this dog which came into the ring. He is a decidedly outstanding specimen; was set down in excellent condition and on the day I judged him, he was positively sound and moved to the delight of the ringsiders.

The Best of Breed scene was one I shall never forget. The ringside was cheering wildly as I presented Mr. Hogan with the beautiful trophy for Best of Breed and he literally had tears of joy in his eyes, though he was beaming and smiling, enjoying a real thrill of a victory honestly won by one of the grandest living specimens of the breed.

Before concluding this report, I must say a word or two regarding the harmony which was evidenced, no matter where you moved among the exhibitors. I certainly came away from the show with the impression that the California Bulldog fraternity are genuine good sports and a great credit to our American dog fancy.

On Monday, the day following the show, I began to see California in grand style; auto trips, house-parties, lunches, theatre parties and last but not least, the unforgettable banquet held in my honor, at Florentine Gardens in Hollywood. What a grand get-together this was. Bulldogs were our chief topic of discussion and it was in the wee small hours of the morning of October 19th when we adjourned.

CH. YORKIST LEONORA

I should like to take this opportunity to thank all of the exhibitors who so gallantly supported this great Specialty show; also the officials who worked hard and untiringly to make the show the great success it was. I was really touched by the tribute which exhibitors paid me with the large entry and my only regret was that it was not possible to give everyone a blue ribbon.

I only wish I had space to tell our readers all about my California experience and about the many, many delightful people whom I met. I am already looking forward to again visiting Southern California at some time in the future and I hope then that I may have the leisure to visit every one and see all of California's great Bulldogs in their own kennels.

I cannot help mentioning how pleased I was to find the respect in which the Bulldog fanciers and the Bulldog Specialty Clubs of California hold the Dog News. While visiting the home of Laverne Hopper, President of the San Diego Bulldog Club, he proudly displayed photo-stat copies of articles taken from Dog News during the past several years. The articles are bound in book form and I was told that they are used frequently at the San Diego Bulldog Club's monthly meetings.

On my trip, I stopped off at Galesburg, Ill., to pay a long promised visit to old Carl Hagenjos, "The Oldest Active Bulldog Breeder and Exhibitor Living." The old gentleman was delighted to see me, and we talked over the old-time Bulldogs and the old-timers now passed on.

While there, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon B. T. Bradbury drove over from Kewanee, Ill., and then they drove me to their home, where another bunch of Bulldoggers met me. This party lasted until the wee hours of the morning. I stayed overnight with the Bradburys, and I left Kewanee on the 9:30 train next morning for Chicago. I was very pleased to see Ch. Rolwal Red Riddle again, as I had not seen her since she was a puppy, when I shipped her to the Bradburys. She is in wonderful condition and is cared for like a child—nothing is too good for her.

I arrived at Chicago at 12 noon, and as I approached the exit of the depot a very loud-voiced announcer was shouting, "Mr. Lawlor, Mr. Lawlor." I was surprised, but it was not long when I learned the answer—another bunch of Bulldoggers. We had luncheon, talked for two hours, and then I regretfully boarded my train for Boston. What a grand trip it had been!

"Reg" Sparkes Purchases English Champion

A late flash advises us that Reg. P. Sparkes has just purchased English Ch. Basford Golden Nymph, and we quote from a letter received by Mr. Sparkes from R. H. Voss, through whom the purchase was made:

"Now then Reg, this dog was retired immediately after he secured his third championship. Upon seeing him the other day, I was astounded and I now make him to be the best dog or bitch in England today, and I say this whether you wish to buy him or not. Roddy will not sell him to anyone else as he is his house pet, but he remembers the good you have done him in the past few years. You can rest assured, Reg, he will top anything I have ever shipped across the Atlantic."

Bulldog News

months-old puppy in Evanston, Wyo., and a strong desire to own a Bulldog came upon them. They accordingly purchased a three-months-old son of Ch. Berton's Son of Britisher ex Billbrooks Sociable Sugar. He is a promising looking youngster with a good strong head and nice bone. His owners hope that he may develop into a show specimen, although they purchased him primarily as a companion. The youngster has been christened Belshazzar Bergdon.

The British Bulldog Kennels of Detroit have recently sold a nice bitch from the Ch. Morningside Monty—Ch. Lily Maid litter to the Morningside Kennels, South Essex, Mass. To replace British Guardsman, recently sold to Mrs. G. Middleton, Richmond Heights, Mo., the Sanfords have British Monty, a puppy that promises well.

Mrs. B. Kewley's Ch. Homebrew's Lady Diane is showing heavy in whelp to Ch. British Grenadier and the dam of Mickey Wooney has again been mated to "Jerry." Mickey Wooney was Winners at the recent Lansing show. At this event, Guinivere's Lady Arabella, owned by Mrs. Kewley and pictured in this issue, got her first blue ribbon. She is a more than promising youngster with a world of personality and is a daughter of Ch. British Grenadier out of Ch. Guinivere.

The Sanfords are holding back British Adventure, a puppy they tell us greatly resembled Lily Maid. She is a slow developer and will probably not be shown until after she has her first litter. Mrs. Esther Busker has purchased British Suzanne. She is just four months old, with an excellent short body, heavy bone and a good head.

A wire from Fred King, Duncan, Okla., advises us that his Duranside Roddie was Best of Breed at the Des Moines show for four points. Congratulations, Mr. King!

Morningside Mavis, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Larcom, Beverly, Mass., was Winners Bitch at the recent Portland, Maine, event, and we believe this gives her her final points for the title. She went over a very nice entry of 17 bitches and had the pleasure of seeing her daughter, Sunnylee Sandra, place Reserve. Incidentally, the Larcoms recently lost their 14-year-old house dog. He had been Mavis' constant pal and she was so broken-hearted that for ten days she flatly refused to eat.

The Warren Blaisdells of New York, who had to disperse their entire kennel because of a city ordinance, have placed most of their dogs out in the country. Dour Deluxe, her young son, Barrow Brigadier and her daughter, Barrow Baggage, are at Morningside. Brigadier, a Ch. Morningside Monty son, shows definite promise. He won the 3-6 months class at the recent Philadelphia Bulldog Club's match, and at this same event his litter sister, Barrow Baggage, won the bitch class. The puppies' dam, Dour Deluxe, has been bred again, this time to a son of Morningside Monty, called Morningside Master, which is out of the well-known Jolly Janie. The Blaisdells' house pet, Nandy, is starting out again after her recent litter. She was Reserve at the Sandy Cove and Queensboro shows. Two from her litter have new homes: Barrow Bystar has gone to Charles A. Moseley, Jr., Charlotte, N. C., and Barrow Buckaroo went to Thos. J. Hayden, of the well-known Seers Kennels.

It was nice to hear from Mrs. Jeanne A. Moore, of Tulsa, Okla. She reports a nice litter of five, sired by Marwell Milngavie Jock, who recently did some nice winning on the Oklahoma and Texas circuit. The dam of the puppies is Moravian Sandy Sugar. A sister to these puppies from a previous litter has recently been bred to Fred King's Eng. Ch. Duranside Roddie.

The George E. Barks, of Lakewood, Ohio, recently lost their old Commander Bar None, affectionately known as "Duke." He was almost ten years old

New England Bulldog Chatter

By Alexander Phemister
50 Holmes Street, Braintree, Mass.

FROM time to time, when shows are not so numerous, I hope to review a few of the Bulldog Kennels located here in New England. My first review covers the Jolly Bulldog Kennels owned by D. Fred Phillips, North Abington, Mass.

Ever since Fred could read, his idea of a dog was an English Bulldog. As a boy, he solemnly vowed he was going to buy a Bulldog with the first money he could lay aside. In 1924 Mr. Phillips purchased his first dog. An out-and-out novice, he was unfortunate enough to get one with a bad case of rickets and despite the care of Mrs. Hazel Phillips, Fred's first love passed on in a little over four months. The second "pup" was Lady Diana. The first real dog that

PHILIP PORTER FORD

Grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, with Ch. Jolley Jericho and Jolly Jeremy produced for the Phillips was procured in 1928 from Hilding Anderson's Sociable Kennels of Brockton, Mass. This dog's name was Sociable Lucky. She was a heavyweight and was bred to Harvey Maxwell's stud, Ch. Lanark Hefty Atlas.

As the time neared for the first Bulldog maternity case, the Phillips family was so jittery they could hardly await the arrival of the puppies. Mrs. Phillips admits that her hands shook so, she couldn't even dry off the puppies as Lucky delivered them. She was so worried about the whole thing and kept calling Mr. Anderson on the phone so frequently that he finally decided he had better come over to Abington and spend the night rather than keep leaping out of bed to answer the questions that were continuously coming over the wire. This first litter out of Sociable Lucky consisted of six puppies, three of which were raised. Two made their championships

—Ch. Sociable Brawnle and Ch. Jolly Atlas.

Shortly after acquiring Sociable Lucky, the Phillips procured Phillips Melvinson and Phillips Matilda from Mrs. Annistice Munn of the Morningside Kennels, South Essex, Mass. Matilda was bred to Jolly Atlas. The day she started to whelp, she seemed to be having trouble. About noon time, a knock was heard at the door and who should drop in but Mrs. Florence White, who offered to drive the bitch to the Angel Memorial Hospital in Boston. Mrs. Phillips put on her wraps, swathed Tillie in blankets and off the three of them went on their 30-mile journey to the hospital. After they had covered about half the journey, Tillie presented them with one pup. The next worry was how to take care of the naval cord. Just about that time, Mrs. White spotted a uniformed man and presuming he was a policeman, pulled out his knife and opened it. Without further ado, Mrs. Phillips then uncovered the puppy and began sawing away on the naval cord. The job completed, she handed the man back this knife and the three of them resumed their journey, leaving the poor man standing in the middle of the road with his mouth agape, thinking he had been entertaining a couple of lunatics. Incidentally, that particular puppy was named "Pontiac" after Mrs. White's car.

Mrs. Phillips has not only raised some mighty nice Bulldogs, but she has also raised a family of seven boys and a girl. The Phillips children have always been interested in the dogs especially the youngest boy, Raymond, who can pick and show them with the best. He once picked out a puppy, asked his father for it and got it. It turned out to be Jolly Jordone that is now owned by George McD. Lockwood. Mrs. Phillips always claims the choice from each litter and right now she is waiting for a litter out of Jolly Betty Lou, a daughter of Ch. Jolly Jericho and Maccliffie Pretty Suzanne. Betty was bred to Jolly Judd, now owned by G. S. McDowell of South Carolina.

It was really Jolly Atlas, who recently passed away, which gave Mr. Phillips his start in Bulldogs. Jolly Atlas was the sire of Ch. Jolly Peggy Atlas who won her first two championship points at the age of six months and five days, going to Best of Breed. Another by the same sire, is Ch. Jolly Jericho, who got his championship at the age of 13 months, collecting twelve points in ten days. Jerry

Bulldog Barks From Canada

By "Reg." P. Sparkes

President of the Canadian Kennel Club also Founder and President of the Bulldog Club of Canada
28 Wellington St., East, Toronto, Ont.,
Canada.

I HAVE often been asked as to when the Bulldog Club, Inc., (England) was founded, and in answer to these requests would state that the said Club was formed in 1875 and I believe it is the oldest Specialist Club in existence. On April 25th, 1935, this Club held its Diamond Jubilee Championship Show at Bloomsbury, England, to celebrate its 60th year, and I believe the show received a record entry since the War.

Once again we are coming to witness some breeders getting their dogs too short on the leg, or in other words, too low to the ground. To my mind, a Bulldog that is too low to the ground

GUINIVERE'S LADY ARABELLA

Owned by Mrs. Berndalyn Kewley,
Chicago, Ill.

Seven months old daughter of Ch. British Grenadier out of Ch. Guinivere. A "British" product through and through.

possesses just as big a fault as one being too high on the leg, because, usually when they are too low to the ground they are unable to move correctly, and those that are bred this way usually walk with a "shuffle" instead of having a good "rolling gait." Another feature that the writer has noticed in his attendance at dog shows is that dogs with good depth of brisket are few and far between, and breeders in general will have to pay more attention to this most outstanding fault.

Whilst judging at a recent dog show, I had the privilege of having quite an informal talk with a lot of the exhibitors and was asked the question as to whether a "chocolate" coloured dog was a disqualification. Usually a "chocolate" coloured dog turns out to be a Dudley, but if the dog has not a Dudley nose, then his colour is not a disqualification, but is certainly most objectionable and the writer would penalize him to a certain extent, but no judge has any right to disqualify a Chocolate coloured dog unless he possesses a Dudley nose, because after all, Black and Tans, Blacks and Dudleys are the only colours absolutely disqualified by the Standard of the Bulldog Club, Inc.

I have often been asked as to what I consider to be a fair percentage of English Bulldog puppies born that are reared to maturity. Naturally, it is pure guess work, but from data that I have secured together with my own experience, I would judge that about 50% to 60% of the puppies that are born are raised to maturity.

Everyone knows the troubles and trials of whelping times with English Bulldogs. Possibly mortality in Bulldog puppies is not quite as great to-day as it used to be years ago; this being due of course to the greater skill and knowledge in veterinary practice, but I still believe that the mortality rate is almost as high, and on account of the general make-up of the breed, will continue to be so. Of course, it is a well-known fact that the mortality rate in Bulldog bitches at whelping time is higher than in any other breed; this being due more or less to the general conformation of the puppies, the heads usually being so large that they cannot seem to enter the passage or pass the pelvis bone, and the result in many cases is either an instrumental birth or Caesarian operation.

Bulldogs West of the Rockies

By F. M. ROSE

1337 Mohawk St., Los Angeles, Calif.

ALTHOUGH Mr. Lawlor undoubtedly is reviewing the Specialty show in this issue, I cannot help saying a word or two about the event. It was really a wonderful show with 101 entries, the largest Bulldog Specialty event ever held west of the Atlantic Seaboard. Mr. Lawlor did a very careful and painstaking job of judging. He emphasized the value of the well turned-up underjaw, proper turn of shoulder and lowness to the ground. The four best in each class were placed upon blocks covered with bunting, colored to signify the ribbon taken by each individual dog. Judge Lawlor then explained over the microphone why he had made his individual placings. All of this was of great interest to both exhibitors and ringsiders. Without a doubt, valuable instruction is taught by this method of judging. Mr. Lawlor is an old breeder, a recognized authority on Bulldog type. He is the creator of the best model of a Bulldog that was made in America and I believe it even possibly betters the English bronze Bulldog. Like many others, Mr. Lawlor would like to see a new standard of the Bulldog formulated.

Though Denver is a bit "east of the Rockies" California figured in the entry, so we do want to mention the show. Dogs and bitches were judged together, Winners going to Hogan's May Mine, a White Knight strain bitch owned by M. W. Raushenberger of Green River, Wyo. She is a daughter of Ch. Midwick White Knight ex Hogan's Union Bond. Best of Breed and fourth in the finals, was Geo. Harback's Ch. Baron Munchausen, by Dream Boy White out of Midwick Frosty. James W. Trullinger of Harrisburg, Pa., was the judge.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. White, Oakland, Calif., are looking forward to two litters sired by their splendid red fawn, Ch. Cragman Buckshot. One is out of their bitch, Princess Patsy Cintrason, and the other out of their recently crowned Champion Yorkist Leonora.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Soos of Los Angeles! There's a new baby boy at the house, christened "Eric."

Awards from the Los Angeles Kennel Club show, which will be judged by H. A. Strong of Riverside, will appear in the next issue.

Terry L. Blanchard of Fresno writes that their bitch, Miss Muggs was recently Reserve at the Sacramento show and that their Royal Laddie is now the official mascot of the Fresno State College Foot Ball team. This puppy is by Ch. Rodoco Stentor.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Cromie of Lynwood, Calif., were reported missing aboard their yacht in a recent storm off the Catalina Islands. They were later safely picked up. Mr. Cromie was formerly President of the Pacific Coast Bulldog Club. The Cromies originally came to America from England, bringing a number of Gainsborough prefixed dogs.

A wire from Don Bradley tells us that his Commodore Rowdy went Winners at the Canadian All Breed Show in Alberta, completing his Canadian championship. Rowdy is also on his way to the American title.

Christmas greetings are offered to all little Bull pups along with their owners. May some extra morsel be given each wee bullbaiter, that he may understand that domestic life has its advantages.

Bulldog News

and he was related to practically all of the Bulldogs in the Cleveland area. When he passed on, the Cleveland Bulldog Club mourned him as they would one of their members. Incidentally, the Barks have no more Bulldogs, but Mr. Bark is President of the Lorain County Kennel Club, and right now is hard at work on plans for the Lorain 1940 show.

W. E. Craig, of the Craigdell Bulldog Kennels, Nashville, Tenn., writes he is disposing of most of his Bulldogs, due to the fact that he will be away from home this winter and not able to give them the attention they need.

Sociable Ronnie, owned by Frank A. Fletcher, Springdale, Conn., has been doing some very nice winning lately. He chalked up a Winners at the Danbury Fair show early in October, went clear through to second in the group at Portland, Me., for four points, and was Best of Breed at Elmhurst.

Fred King, of Duncan, Okla., reports a litter out of The Lady, his White Mule daughter, who lacks but a few points to her championship. There were nine in the litter and three departed for new homes when they were only six weeks old. The new owners are Sam Coates, Waco, Texas; M. L. Cook, of Galveston, and Stanton Meek, of Ponca City.

Harry Shields, of the Stone Bulldog

Kennels, Toronto, writes he is forced to cut down his kennel, as his time is quite limited because of guard duty.

J. P. Thompson, of London, Ont., reports a litter of ten, sired by Int. Ch. Piccadilly Playboy out of Picc Violet. This is Mr. Thompson's first venture in breeding Bulldogs and he certainly is having "beginner's luck," as all ten puppies are living and doing fine. Piccadilly reports that Mr. and Mrs. John McClain, of Knoxville, has purchased Piccadilly Maxine, a promising Playboy bitch.

The London (Canada) Kennel Association recently staged their annual Sanction show. Alf Loveridge judged, and Piccadilly Stonecroft Sonja, a good young bitch, was Best in Show, All Breeds.

Dr. Hugh Willson O'Neill reports a number of breedings to his Eng. Ch. Berwyn British Baker. Dr. O'Neill's Eng. Ch. Ryefield Moira is showing heavy in whelp to him and Frank Hogan's Dark Angel, a good bitch sired by Int. Ch. Basford Revival's Replica, (Baker and Replica are half-brothers) has been bred. Frank Durham's Bull Durham Duchess, a young Replica daughter, has also been bred to Baker, whose first American litter arrived November 5th. The dam is Picadilly Golden Girl, a daughter of Int. Ch. Piccadilly Playboy. Golden Girl is a great granddaughter of Tri. Int. Ch. Basford Ideal, a half-brother of Baker's. There were three dogs and three bitches in Golden Girl's litter.

Down in Ovid, N. Y., there is a litter of nine puppies sired by Ken Bruce's Drinkmoor Budweiser. The dam is Patricia Lochaber. The owner—frankly, we don't know, as our informant forgot to sign his name. Anyhow, it ought to be a nice litter with the breeding which is behind it.

Flash: A late note tells us that Dr. Hugh W. O'Neill's Eng. Ch. Ryefield Moira recently whelped a litter by Eng. Ch. Berwyn British Baker—only two were saved out of a litter of five.

Show Wins

Texas circuit. Fort Worth, Texas. Edith Ann Edwards' Marwell Milngavie Jock was Winners Dog, J. E. Armstrong's Opaldale's Mainstead Lady placing Best of Breed and third in the group. The Dallas show was a repeat of the Fort Worth wins, except that Lady did not place in the group. At Galveston, Marwell Milngavie Jock was Best of Breed, and third in the group, the bitch points going to H. F. Kelso, Jr.'s Lady Sue of Sidwick. At Houston, W. L. Rogers' Amberjack's Answer was Best of Breed and fourth in the group, and Col. W. Earle Smith's Westdorf's Yorkshire Pat was Winners Bitch. Milngavie Jock was Best of Breed and second in the group at Beaumont.

Our "Duke"

By George E. Bark, Bay Village, Ohio

THE Duke of Bark's Kennels
Has passed on his way
For all of his friends
This has been a sad day.

The sire of old G-Man,
And Union Jack, too,
There's a score of others
Who finished in blue.

There is Pugsy and Patsy,
And there's Sheba Burdette,
All proud of their daddy,
You surely can bet.

There is Amos and Andy
And Bark's Auburn Beauty
Also there is one
That they call Miller's Snooty.

A son of Capt. Doleful,
You all knew his speed
They both were a credit
To that old Sourmug breed.

But now he has gone
To his Mother and Sis,
Where all the good doggies
Find eternal bliss.

What more is there
That I can say,
The Duke of Bark's kennels
Has passed on his way.
