STANDARD for excellence of TYPE

... IN THE ...

OLD ENGLISH BULL-DOG

as adopted by the

BULL-DOG CLUB OF AMERICA

- General Appearance THE perfect Bull-dog must be of medium size and smooth coat; with heavy thick set, low-swing body; massive short-faced head; wide shoulders and sturdy limbs.
- Attitude The general appearance and attitude should suggest great stability, vigor and strength.
- Expression The disposition should be equable and kind, resolute and courageous (not vicious or aggressive), and the demeanor should be pacific and dignified.
- Etc. These attributes should be countenanced by the expression and behavior.
- Gait The style and carriage are peculiar, his gait being a loose-jointed, shuffling, sidewise motion, giving the characteristic "roll." The action must, however, be unrestrained, free and vigorous.
- Proportion and Symmetry The "points" should be well distributed and bear good relation one to the others, no feature being in such prominence from either excess or lack of quality that the animal appears deformed or illy proportioned.
- Influence of Sex In comparison of specimens of different sex, due allowance should be made in favor of the bitches, which do not bear the characteristics of the breed to the same degree of perfection and grandeur as do the dogs.
- Size The size for mature dogs is about 50 pounds; for mature bitches about 40 pounds.
- Coat The coat should be straight, short, flat, close, of fine texture, smooth and glossy. (No fringe, feather or curl.)
- Color of Coat The color of coat should be uniform, pure of its kind and brilliant. The various colors found in the breed are to be preferred in the following order:—
(1) Red brindle, (2) all other brindles, (3) solid white, (4) solid red, fawn or fallow, (5) piebald, (6) inferior qualities of all the foregoing.
(NOTE.—A perfect piebald is preferable to a muddy brindle or defective solid color.)
Solid black is very undesirable, but not so objectionable if occurring to a moderate degree in piebald patches. The brindles, to be perfect, should have a fine, even and equal distribution of the composite colors.
In brindles and solid colors a small white patch on the chest is not considered detrimental. In piebalds the color patches should be well defined, of pure color, and symmetrically distributed.
- Skin The skin should be soft and loose, especially at the head, neck and shoulders.

- Wrinkle and Dewlap The head and face should be covered with heavy wrinkles, and at the throat, from jaw to chest, there should be two loose pendulous folds, forming the dewlap.
- Skull The skull should be very large, and in circumference, in front of the ears, should measure at least the height of the dog at the shoulders. Viewed from the front, it should appear very high from the corner of the lower jaw to the apex of the skull, and also very broad and square. Viewed at the side, the head should appear very high, and very short from the point of the nose to occiput. The forehead should be flat (not rounded or "domed"), neither too prominent, or overhanging the face.
- Cheeks The cheeks should be well rounded, protruding sideways and outward beyond the eyes.
- Stop The temples or frontal bones should be very well defined, broad, square and high, causing a hollow or groove between the eyes. This indentation, or "stop," should be both broad and deep and extend up the middle of the forehead, dividing the head vertically, being traceable to the top of the skull.
- Eyes and Eyelids The eyes, seen from the front, should be situated low down in the skull, as far from the ears as possible, and their corners should be in a straight line at right angles with the stop. They should be quite in front of the head, as wide apart as possible, provided their outer corners are within the outline of the cheeks when viewed from the front. They should be quite round in form, of moderate size, neither sunken nor bulging, and in color should be very dark. The lids should cover the white of the eye-ball, when the dog is looking directly forward, and the lid should show no "haw."
- Ears The ears should be set high in the head, the front inner edge of each ear joining the outline of the skull at the top back corner of skull, so as to place them as wide apart, and as high, and as far from the eyes as possible. In size they should be small and thin. The shape termed "rose ear" is the most desirable. The "rose ear" folds inward at its back lower edge, the upper front edge curving over, outwards and backwards, showing part of the inside of the burr. (The ears should not be carried erect or "prick-eared" or "buttoned" and should never be cropped.)
- Face The face, measured from the front of the cheek bone to the tip of nose, should be extremely short, the muzzle being very short, broad, turned upwards and very deep from the corner of the eye to the corner of the mouth.
- Nose The nose should be large, broad and black, its tip being set back deeply between the eyes. The distance from the bottom of stop, between the eyes, to the tip of nose, should be as short as possible and not exceed the length from the tip of nose to the edge of under lip. The nostrils should be wide, large and black, with a well-defined line between them. (The parti-color or "butterfly nose" and the flesh-color or "Dudley nose" are decidedly objectionable, but do not disqualify for competition.)
- Chops The chops or "flews" should be thick, broad, pendant and very deep, completely overhanging the lower jaw at each side. They join the under lip in front and almost or quite cover the teeth, which should be scarcely noticeable when the mouth is closed.

- Jaws The jaws should be massive, very broad, square and "undershot," the lower jaw projecting considerably in front of the upper jaw, and turning up.
- Teeth The teeth should be large and strong, with the canine teeth or tusks wide apart, and the six small teeth in front, between the canines, in an even, level row.
- Neck The neck should be short, very thick, deep and strong, and well arched at the back.
- Shoulders The shoulders should be muscular, very heavy, wide-spread and slanting outward, giving stability and great power.
- Chest The chest should be very broad, deep and full.
- Brisket and Body The brisket and body should be very capacious, with full sides, well rounded ribs, and very deep from the shoulders, down to its lowest part, where it joins the chest. It should be well let down between the shoulders and forelegs, giving the dog a broad, low, short-legged appearance. The body should be well ribbed up behind with the belly tucked up, and not round.
- Back The back should be short and strong, very broad at the shoulder and comparatively narrow at the loins. There should be a slight fall in the back, else behind the shoulders (its lowest part), whence the spine should rise to the loins (the top of which should be higher than the top of the shoulders), thence curving again more suddenly to the tail, forming an arch (a very distinctive feature of the breed), termed "roach-back," or, more correctly, "wheel-back."
- Forelegs The forelegs should be short, very stout, straight and muscular, set wide apart, with well developed calvea, presenting a bowed outline, but the bones of the legs should not be curved or bandy, nor the feet brought too close together.
- Elbows The elbows should be low, and stand well out and loose from the body.
- Hindlegs The hindlegs should be strong and muscular, and longer than the forelegs, so as to elevate the loins above the shoulders. Hocks should be slightly bent and well let down, so as to give length and strength from loins to hock. The lower leg should be short, straight and strong, with the stifles turned slightly outward and away from the body. The hocks are thereby made to approach each other, and the hind feet to turn outward.
- Feet The feet should be moderate in size, compact and firmly set. Toes compact, well split up, with high knuckles, and with short and stubby nails. The front feet may be straight or slightly out-turned, but the hind feet should be pointed well outward.
- Tail The tail may be either straight or "screwed" (but never curved or curly), and in any case must be short, hung low, with decided downward carriage, thick root and fine tip. If straight, the tail should be cylindrical and of uniform taper. If "screwed" the bends or kinks should be well defined, and they may be abrupt and even knotty, but no portion of the member should be elevated above the base or root.

DEFINITION OF CLASSES.

(As referred to in Premium List) See A. K. C. Rules.

1. The Puppy Class shall be for all dogs over six months and under twelve months of age, and no entry can be made of one under six months or whose date of birth is unknown.

2. The Novice Class shall be for all dogs never having won a first prize at any recognized show, wins in the puppy classes excepted.

3. The Limit Class shall be for all dogs never having won four first prizes at any recognized show, wins in the puppy and novices' classes excepted.

4. The Open Class shall be for all dogs of any age over six months. No prize winner shall be debarred from competing.

5. The Winners' Class shall be open only to the winners of first prizes at any show giving at least three of the before-mentioned classes, one of which must be the open class, and the winner of three first prizes in this class will thereby become a champion of record, be so registered by the American Kennel Club and will, if registered in the Stud Book, be entitled to an American Kennel Club champion medal. Before awarding "reserve" in this class, the dog or dogs having been placed second to the winner in any of the regular classes must be brought before the judge for competition with the remaining dogs in said Winners' Class. No class winner can be withdrawn or withheld from competition in the Winners' Class, and no entry fee shall be charged for said competition in this class. A dog that has already won one or more first prizes in the late challenge class shall retain these wins to its credit toward becoming a champion of record, the remaining qualifying wins to be gained in the Winners' Class. The Winners' Class can be divided by sex, provided the required three classes, as advertised, are also divided by sex.
